

The Daily Courant.

Thursday, January 29. 1708.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Feb. 3.

Naples, Jan. 10.

THE Duke de Lamia has oblig'd several private Persons of the Province of Lavoro, who had laid up great Quantities of Wheat, to sell it, that it might be brought higher. Yesterday General Werzel return'd either from his Expedition to Orbitello, but last from Rome, where he had Audience of the Pope touching the March of the Imperial Troops through the Ecclesiastical Territories. To compleat the Sum of 350000 Ducats, of which this City has made a Free-Gift to King Charles III. our Viceroy has had Recourse to an Expedient us'd on other Occasions; which is to borrow of the wealthiest Families the Money remaining to be rais'd, assigning to them Funds for Repayment with Interest. 10 Spaniards who lately came hither disguis'd in the Habits of Priests, are taken into Custody, being suspected of some ill Design. The Duke of Escalona is remov'd into the Castle of Baya, the Prince of Cellamare into that del Ovo, and the Duke of Bisaccia remains in that of St. Elmo; it being judg'd inconvenient to let three Prisoners of their Rank be kept in one Castle.

Leghorne, Jan. 14. The Imperialists continue to streighten Porto-Hercole. The Garrison of which Place seem determin'd to defend themselves. The Chevalier Pallavicini has enter'd the Harbour of San-Stefano with his Ship carrying 56 Guns and 350 Men, to hinder the Conveyance of any Provisions by Sea to Porto-Hercole; and another Ship has joyn'd him. He has taken a Tartan coming from Palermo, laden with Corn, 8 Bales of Silk, and other Merchandise, with several French Passengers bound for Genoa. He has also taken 6 Majorcan Barks laden with Corn, that were bound for Porto-Hercole. Besides the Troops expected from Naples to help to reduce that Place, 2 Regiments are recruiting at Orbitello, one Italian the other Spanish, to act jointly with the other Troops.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Feb. 2.

Turin, Jan. 11. The 4th of this Month, Prince Emanuel de Soisons, Nephew of Prince Eugene of Savoy, receiv'd from Vienna the Emperour's Commission to command the Regiment of Horse of the late General Vanbonne. The 7th publick Notification was made in this City, that such as would undertake to perfect the Counter-guard without the New Gate, should repair the 13th to the Commissioners of the Fortifications. His Royal Highness has not yet dispos'd of the Military Employments that are vacant; and therefore several Officers attend the Court to solicit Advancement. The Marquis de Cortanza, who is sent to the Court of Vienna, will proceed from thence, after he has discharg'd his Commission to the Emperour, to Holland and England on Affairs of Importance.

Vienna, Jan. 18. Count Gallas, in his Instructions, has Orders to concert speedy Measures with the Queen of Great-Britain and the States of Holland, for sending a further Succout of 20000 been to King Charles in Spain, and for maintaining them there in such Manner as is requisite; because otherwise 'tis to be fear'd King Charles will be much distress'd by the Enemy; and the 16th Instant an Express was sent to Barcelona, to give his Catholick Majesty an Account of this and other Affairs. The Diet in Hungary is to meet the 29th of February, and the Cardinal of Saxe-Zutts gives more and more Hopes daily, that it will have a happy Issue: However, this Court does not wholly rely upon it, but prudently apply themselves with great Diligence to put the Imperial Troops in Hungary and Transylvania into a good Condition, in Order to prosecute the War with the utmost Vigour, in Case this Attempt to compose the Troubles of that Kingdom and Principality in an amicable Way, prove fruitless. The Empress is indispos'd, and keeps her Chamber. Count Heister, Imperial Field-Marshal-General, is expected at Court in a few Days from his Country-Seat, and will be offer'd the Command in Chief of the Forces in Hungary.

From the Harlem Courant, dated Feb. 4.

Vienna, Jan. 21. The Advice we had that Prince Ragorski had caus'd 6 of the chief Hungarians of his Party to be confin'd, is not confirm'd; but we are assur'd that the said Prince has publish'd a Proclamation forbidding any Person to appear at the Diet call'd by the Emperour to meet at Presbourg, on Pain of being beheaded without Form of Process.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Feb. 3.

Vienna, Jan. 21. Prince Ragorski and the other Chiefs of the Malecontents do all they can in Opposition to the holding of the Diet call'd to meet the last Day of February; for they are drawing together all their Forces, with design to divide them into 3 Bodies, and to secure all the Passages, that they may hinder the Deputies of the States of the Kingdom from repairing to Presbourg.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Feb. 4.

Vienna, Jan. 21. M. Sternhoek, the Swedish Secretary residing here, has declar'd to the Imperial Ministers, that his Swedish Majesty has no ill Design in his Head against the Emperour or his hereditary Dominions; that his Majesty will not insist rigorously on the Demands contain'd in the Explication of the Treaty of Alt-ranstad drawn up by Baron Strahlenheim; and that the Affairs of Religion in Silesia may be made an End of quietly, if the Emperour will but extend some Favour to the Calvinists who were not expressly mention'd in the foresaid Treaty: Which done, his Swedish Majesty will forthwith prosecute his Design of following the Muscovite into his own Country.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Feb. 3.

Leghorne, Jan. 14. The Rains which have fallen in this Country almost 50 Days together, have caus'd great Inundations; and we have begun to make publick Prayers and Processions for fair Weather. The Gallies of the Duke de Turfis are detain'd at Porto-Fino by the tempestuous Season.

From

From the Harlem Courant, dated Feb. 4.

Rome, Jan. 14. We had such abundance of Rain this Week past, that the Tyber began to overflow in several Places of this City; but the Rain ceasing and the Wind abating the River is sunk to its ordinary Stream. Mean time the Pope has order'd Prayers to be made in all the Churches for dry Weather, and caus'd Bread to be distributed to the Poor in the Country.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Feb. 3.

Venice, Jan. 20. A miraculous Image of the Virgin, has been carry'd about in Procession 3 Days together in the Square of St. Mark, to obtain of Heaven fair Weather; and the Rains which had before caus'd Inundations and done great Damage, have since ceas'd.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated Feb. 3.

Paris, Jan. 30. The last Letters from Madrid, Bilbao, and Bayone, tell us they have had unusual Rains in Spain, which will hinder the Armies from taking the Field so early as was desig'd.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Feb. 3.

Ghent, Jan. 29. The great Rains have made the Rivers overflow, in such a Manner that a third Part of Flanders is under Water; the like has not happen'd in the Memory of Man.

Plymouth, Jan. 25. Yesterday Sail'd her Majesty's Ship the Tartar; and this Day Sail'd the Dover and Antelope, all 3 to cruise.

Yarmouth, Jan. 26. Here continue in these Roads her Majesty's Ships the Lyme, Mermaid, and Flam-borough.
